

Governor Palin has not listened to Alaskans who have twice voted to restrict the use of airplanes to kill wolves.

Instead, she is expanding the program — most recently by proposing $150 bounties for wolves killed in designated areas. And unless she hears from enough Alaskans, her next action could be to expand it to include helicopters in order to shoot hundreds of wolves before the end of April.

---

CALL Governor Palin at 907-269-7450 (from Anchorage) or 907-465-3982 (statewide) and ask her to restore the will of the voters.

---

LEAVE A MESSAGE FOR YOUR STATE SENATOR AND REPRESENTATIVE 907-269-0111 AND ASK THEM TO DO THE SAME.

---

Alaska Wilderness League
Alaska Wildland Adventures
Alaska Wildlife Alliance
Alaskans for a Representative Board of Wildlife
Defenders of Wildlife
Defenders of Wildlife Action Fund
Kachemak Bay Conservation Society
Sierra Club Alaska Chapter
Vision Quest Adventures

Printed by Alaska Wildlife Alliance, John Topperberg, 308 6 Street, Suite 309, Anchorage, Alaska 99501, Phone (907) 277-0887

It's time to STOP Alaska's aerial gunning programs and maintain our state's natural heritage.